

Good news – by law, contributions into your pension pot have gone up¹

- This includes extra ‘free’ money from your employer and the government into your pension pot – and it’s yours to keep.
- To enjoy a comfortable retirement you’ll need to save as much as you can, as early as you can.
- Because currently at £168.60² a week, the State Pension just might not be enough.

Remember, this is your money even if you change jobs you will always have this pension pot.

¹ If you stop your contributions, your employer may stop paying in too.

² Based on someone reaching state pension age on or after 6 April 2016 with a full National Insurance record.

Find out more at:
www.thepeoplespension.co.uk/pension-increases

For people, not profit

the people's pension