Market commentary

Inflation has continued to stay above the Bank of England's central target with the year on year CPI rate of 2.4% in May. Following strong statements at the Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) meetings in February and March, the markets had priced in a 90+% probability of a 25 basis points rate hike in May. However, following comments by Bank of England Governor Mark Carney in late April and a run of weaker economic data, rates were kept on hold. The cautious tone did not last, with the MPC becoming hawkish again at June's MPC.
