Market commentary

Concerns over the deteriorating economic outlook has lead to a change in stance by the worlds central banks. The US Federal Reserve cut interest rates and the ECB focussed on restarting quantitative easing. The latest economic growth statistics showed the UK economy shrank by 0.2% in the second quarter. This lead to increasing expectations that the Bank of England's next interest rate change could be downwards. These responses provided some comfort to equities but lead to significant gains in bond prices. In the current low interest rate environment a small headline rate cut represents a notable movement in the overall interest rate and bond prices moved up sharply as a result. The Annuity fund has recently seen large price rises but it is important to remember that the objective of the fund is to provide a degree of protection against movements in annuity rates. The fund does not aim to generate ongoing capital gains and past performance should not be taken as a guide to the future.
